

One of the world's rarest cars was unveiled at the Royal Rehabilitation Centre's Ducati Day in Ryde and CEO Stephen Lowndes (pictured) was in the driver's seat. The dazzling car is called the "Spartan" and is powered by an especially converted Ducati motorcycle engine.

Hundreds of Ducati bikes and merchandise were also on show at Ducati Day which is hosted by the Royal Rehabilitation Centre and the Ducati Owners Club of NSW. Mr Lowndes noted that Sunday's event was the 30th Ducati Day held on the Centre's front lawns to raise awareness of the work by done by the Spinal Injury Unit to rehabilitate bike riders and other motorists injured on the road.

"The Ducati Owners Club was only five years old when it started Ducati Day and this reflects the respect and esteem club members have for our the Spinal Unit," he said. TWT on-the-spot PHOTO. TWT 21/9/22 Pg 19
